

Athalie MAYO

Global Logistics Cluster Coordinator, World Food Programme

In 2019, Athalie joined the Logistics Cluster as the Global Logistics Cluster Coordinator. The Logistics Cluster provides coordination and information management to support operational decision-making and improve the predictability, timeliness and efficiency of the humanitarian emergency response. Where necessary, the Logistics Cluster also facilitates access to common logistics services.

Athalie had previously worked in a variety of Supply Chain roles with WFP, supporting partners with their logistics and procurement needs, particularly in the context of humanitarian response to emergencies.

Prior to embarking on the challenges of humanitarian supply chains, Athalie worked for over a decade in security, risk and crisis management. In these roles she provided proactive and reactive support in Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean and Africa regions.

Athalie's professional career began in the British Army, working on in information analysis to support decision making. She holds degrees in Disaster, Risk and Crisis Management and Modern Languages.
